50. Kali Santaraŋa Upanishat
A Vaishŋava Upanishat From Krishna Yajur Veda

Hail Hari

May He protect us both,
May He guide us both,
May we both strive hard,
May our study be invigorating,
May we never hate each other.

Omn Peace Peace Peace

1. At the end of the Age of Dvαpara, Nαrada went to Brahmaa and asked: How can I roaming across the earth, succeed in crossing the Age of Kali? Brahmaa replied: You have asked a good question. Listen to that what is hidden and kept secret in all the Scriptures, by which you may cross over the deadly existence during the Age of Kali. By merely uttering the name of Nαrαyaŋa, the Primordial Person, you will be washed off all sins during the Age of Kali.

2. Nαrada asked again: What is his name? Hiraŋyagarbha (Brahmaa) replied:
"Hare Rαma Hare Rαma
Rαma Rαma Hare Hare,
Hare Kρshŋa Hare Kρshŋa
Kρshŋa Kρshŋa Hare Hare," is the sixteen-syllabic mantra. This is the one that removes all the blemishes of the Age of Kali. In all the Vedas, no other procedure better than this is seen to exist. This is the one which destroys the enclosure of sixteen phases which bind the Self. Thereafter, the Supreme Brahman shines forth as the Sun in the sky after the clouds are broken.

3. Punar Nαradah papracςha:
Bhagavan ko'sya vidhir iti |
Tamn hovαcha: Nαsya vidhir iti |
Sarvadα šuchita šuchir vα pαthan
Brahmaηah salokatαmn sameepatαmn
saroopatαmn sαyujyam eti ||

3. Again Nαrada asked: O Lord, what are the rules to be observed in this procedure?
Brahmaa replied: There are no rules and restrictions in this. If one chants this mantra all the time, staying pure, and with a pure mind, attains either the same world of Brahma, or a place close to him, or a form equal to him, or immersion in him.

4. Yadαsya shoδašikasya sαrtha trikoτir japati tadα Brahma hatyαmn tarati |
Tarati veera hatyαm |
Svarηa steyαt pooto bhavati |
Vρshalee gamanαt pooto bhavati |
Pitρ deva manushyαηαm apakαrαt pooto bhavati |
Sarva dharma parityαga pαpαd sadyah šuchitαm αpnuyαt |
Sadyo muchyate, sadyo muchyata ityupanishat ||

4. Whoso utters this sixteen syllabic mantra three and a half crore times, he overcomes the sin of killing a Brahmana, or the sin accrued by killing a warrior, or the sin resulting from stealing gold, or the sin committed by sleeping with a woman of a lower caste. He is purified from all offenses committed by him against his father, gods, and men. He is also released from the sin of withdrawing from all his duties. He is at once released from all bondage. He is at once released from all bondage.
Thus is the higher knowledge.
